A Canadian Farm on Easy Terms

Do you wish to possess your own Farm Home through annual payments, so small that you have a substantial surplus for comfortable living? The new plan of the Canadian Pacific Railway makes possible the realization of Jour dream. The Canadian Pacific Railway still owns large blocks of land in Western Canada whose virgin soil possibilities are immense -open areas of prairie or sheltered parklands—where settlers of a few years ago have found profit and comfort. ... The Canadian Pacific Railway new offers you a Farm Heme in Western Canada on a new Long-Term Plan of Easy Payment that is extraordinary. Every farmer must be interested in any plan that makes it possible to own a farm home without taking all bis profits to meet his land payments and still enable him to give his family the comforts and enjoyments of life. Payments extended over 35 Years FIRST YEAR FREE USE OF LAND Under this plan all the acttler pars down is 7% of the purchase price-then he will have one your's free use of the land without any interest chargeable whatsoever, after which the balance of principal will be amerized on an easy payment plan of 34 equal, annual payments which makes the second payment full due two years after the purchase of the land, which is fluured on the basis of 7% of the balance of the cost of the land. For example, on a purchase of 160 acres costing say, $3,600, the down payment will be $210 and the of the second year, will be $210 and the annual payments, commoneing at the end of the second year, will be $195.30. At the end of 35 years the settler will get clear title to the land—unless, of course, he wishes to pay sooner, which is his privilege. Taxes are moderate and there are no taxes on your livestock, buildings, improvements, implements or personal effects. Good mar-kets, modern schools, reads, churches, amusements make farm life in Western Canada desirable and attractive. This offer

FOR ANEURISM, CANCER ETC.

A new medicine for the cure of Aneurism, Cancer and Carbuncle by Injection and Internal use.

Most physicians and surgeons have expressed the opinion that Angurism, Cancer and Carbuncle are incurable and many deaths have been caused by these dread diseases. Dr. T. Matsushita, M. B., Professor of the Japanese Imperial University has made a careful sindy of these diseases for several years and has at inst discovered the use of "CARCINOLYSIN" for injection and internal use. A large number. of Japanese patients have been cured by the use of this medicine and it is now becoming well known for its curative properties.

Foreigners have always died of these discases owing to fallure to find a remedy.

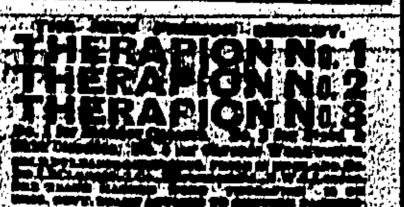

Of late Dr. Sun Yat Sen is suffering from cancer of the liver which is a phase of one of the above-mentioned diseases. Those suffering from this disease will gradually develop fever, nervous pains, prinary troubles, bad appetite, dysentery and vomiting.

Victims of this disease are advised to immediately procure "CARCHNOLYSIN" from our agents and by taking this internally, or by injection, the progress of the discuss will be stopped and results quickly obtained. Cancer Glands will disappear and swellen sicers be reduced to a minimum quickly and easily by the use of "CARCINOLYBIN,"

Those having hereditary disease are advised to take "CARCINOLYBIN" in order to check its notivities. This medicine is the result of long experiment and has no injurious effect on those

(An Edinburgh Physician's personal experience). "I suffered from a severe attack of Septic Pneumonia in June, 1923, followed by a severe nervous breakdown, with the usual symptoms of nervousness, insamnia, periods of acute depression. and general weakness; nothing seemed to be of much benefit till I began the use of your Sanatogen. I am now glad to say, that I am much better, well on the road to full convalence."

When you, like this physician, are suffering from general weakness-when you have only partly regained your health after some serious illness-then start taking Sanatogen. Sanatogen infuses into the cells of body and blood exactly those elements-albumin and phosphorus-which build up your Health and Strength lastingly.

WITHOUT PURE BLOOD HEALTH IS IMPOSSIBLE. VETARZOBLOOD MEDICINE

Never before was there anything like it, nor are its marvellous properties likely ever to be equalled in diseases arising from impure blood. It searches out and expels from the vital current every jurking trace of poisonous matter, curing blood and skin diseases, scrofulous and glandular swellings, bad legs, abscesses, ulcers, curems, gout, rheumatism, goltre or Derbyshire Neck, etc. It improves the general health and quickly removes long-standing bronchitis, asthma and hacking, straining, spasmodic cough, too often the precursor of consumption

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

NAZIMOVA" IN "CAMILLE.

Nazimova is called "the incomparable." This brilliant actress' performance in "Camille," shown yesterday at the Queen's Theatre, where it began a run of four days, evinces such a mastery of technique and emotional quality as makes her deserve the epithet to perfection. Here she is at her best, and it is no exaggeration to say that in' this picture she shows herself one of the greatest actresses of the

In "Camille" Nuzimova has done for the silver screen what Bernhardt, Eleanora Duse, Clara Morris, Olga Nethersole, and Ethel Barrymore did for the stage. These artists won fame for their interpretation of the role of "Camille." Nazimova, no less than they, has endowed the part with a charm and power.

It is rarely that such a masterpiece is seen, seldom that a great drama and a great actress are united. And after seeing the picture, one easily understands the statement that it is one of the finest love stories of all times, and that the play still thrills and delights, seventy years after being: produced in Paris.

Nazimova has the rôle of Camille, the woman of the underworld whom the love of a law student lifts to heights of devotion and sacrifice, and who returns to her showy, pitiful life upon learning that her sweetheart has abandoned his career for her sake. It is a poignant tragedy that will not fail to hold interest until the very end.

"CARTER."

THE GREAT MAGICIAN.

Carter, the much travelled and much heralded Magician and his | company has been booked to appear for a short season at the Queen's Theatre beginning from the 24th April.

Carter is now appearing in. Manila and is what "The Cable-News-American" says: "The best show ever to appear in Manila. Mysterious Carter a wonder. No better house ever greeted any show than faced Carter last night at the Opera House. The place was packed and hundreds were turned away." Carter has also appeared in London, in the provinces and at the leading theatres in Europe and America.

Carter gives a full two and a half hours' entertainment which is lavishly staged, containing carrying His Majosty's Mails will be bewildering and clever illusious, despatched from this port at Noon magical and conjuring feats, assist- on. TUESDAY, the 21st April, ed by five talented assistants, and he will entertain and mystify with and without apparatus. He has in all probability originated more tricks and illusions than any magician, and will present many of them during his engagement at the Queen's Theatre. Booking is now open at the theatre.

COMING CONCERT.

NTERESTING LOCAL EVENT.

Friday, May I, is to witness a variety concert of great interest which is to be given in the Theatre Royal. The entertainment is to be in aid of the charity funds of the R.A. Association, and as such it has the patronage of H.E. the General Officer Commanding, and Major Hattersley Smith, D.S.O. The programme will include items by some of Hongkong's best known artistes, including Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Collett who took such a prominent part in "The Gondoliers." Major Macready whose success in "Saint Joan" is. not forgotten: Mr. H. G Annis, Lt. Allcock, Messrs Charles Olive and R. McKeon, as well as the famous band of the Surrey Regiment. Other items will be announced later. It will seen that a programme of superlative merit is being arranged which should have a wide appeal, apart from the object of the concert itself. Booking is at Anderson's at $3, $2 and

WORLD THEATRE.

John' Lynch, whose screen drama, "The Rejected Woman," will be shown at the World Theatre to-day, is a veteran who has. been writing for the screen for eleven years, has never been out of work a single day in that time, who believes in close-ups in spite of the agitation against them and who declares that producers must return to original stories if the virility of the silent drama is to be insintaned. ——

Mr. Lynch prepared "The Rejected Woman " as a special starring vehicle for Alma Rubens and Conrad Nagel, and those who have seen the acting opportunities it affords these two favourites, appearing now for the first time together, declare that he has been highly

WEDNESDAY'S UNION CHURCH WEDDING.

Photo by Mee Fong. & A wedding of considerable local interest took place at Union Church, Kennedy Road, on Wednesday, the parties being Miss. Elizabeth aboliat Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, Quarry Bay; and Mr. Norman Melnroy Currie, and of Mr. and Mrs. F. Currie, Lundee, Scotland. The bride was given away by her father. Miss Nan Ferguson, her sister, and Miss Cathie Ferguson her woman, were the bridesmaids. Miss Gertie McNeillie was, flower-girl. The Rev. J. Horace Johnson officiated at the ceremony. Mr. W. A. Stewart was best man. Mr. Henry Laird Carson and Mr. Thomas Low were

POSSIBLE HONGKONG GOVERNOR?

The Hone Sir W. George Maxwell, K.E.E., C.M.G., Chief. Secretary to Government Federated Malay States was mentioned by a Kunla Lumpur paper as being a possible successor to Sir Edward Stubbs as Governor of Hongkong. However in an interview published in the latest number of The Victorian, the magazine of the Victoria dustitution, Kusla Lumpur, Sir-George Maxwell in reported to have said that he is retiring on pension in June next year when he reaches the age-limit.

GOING HOME FOR GOOD NEXT WEEK.

Mr. R. E. O. Bird, Headmaster of Ellis Kadoor'e School and Mrs. Bird leave the Colony for good next Tuesday, Mr. Bird having retired after twenty-three years' service in the Colony. Mr. Bird is a famous interport sportsman, and an interesting interview with him appears on page one of this issue.

A GLIMPSE OF AMOY.

"This "traveller's snapshot" shows a charming view of Amoy as seen from the direction of Kulangsu. Note the difference in the rig of the junk compared with the type common here.

SAIGON'S SHADY STREETS.

Sir Edward Stubbs must have visited this beautiful street during his recent tour of Indo-China. Salgon is a splendidly laid out town with an abundance of

NOTABLE SHIP LAUNCHED.

WEARABLE

The Song of the Shirt.

One of the most important single features of the spring fashion symphony is the tailored shirt—

"in toto" or as an influence. The popularity, but not the usefulness and charm, of the one-piece-dress is temporarily eclipsed by the vogue of the two-piece or jumper dress, a French origination, and-like all of the latter group, an idea of acceptable fushion value.

Any style that leads to interchangeable parts is economical and the two-piece dress is such a style. It is made up of a skirt and separate blouse, known in the parlance of the "trade" as p "shirt," and its influence extends far beyond the realm of its original conception, affecting even the onepiece frock that it has rivalled? It has buttons and ties and belts, or it has no one of the three; is usually of the overblouse type; it matches or contrasts with the skirt; and it employs such features as the plastron, the yoke and the pnew, boyish collars. All of these features are adapted to the frock of a single piece, the latter fre-quently simulating the two-piece

HANDINGLOVE WITH MOUZZZY

No matter how much curiosity and desire to test the loyalty of her suitor might tempt her, the modern woman would hesitate to throw a glove into the den of a wild beast. There might be a chance that the loyalty might fail and the glove be lost to her, and the increased beauty of this particular accessory has resulted in increased cost, so that lost gloves are a cause for more than a passing pang of regret or annoyance. For the correct ensemble demands correct handwear, and no one may deny the demands of this most insistent vogue. 🕟

Whether the frock be tailored and more dressy type, that is, very often, sleeveless, gloves are imperative; and when the fairly short glove is worn with a short-sleeved or sleeveless dress, it follows that attention is centred on the glove itself. Fashion has met this demand for beaufiful handwear in a way that cannot but prove entisfactory, In the attempt to achieve elegance with restraint there were, naturally, a very great many errors made, and by that is meant errors in the amount of colour and elaboration used.

London, April 17.

While the nation has beer thrilled by the unruffled competence of the whole crew, the outstanding facts of the magnificent effort of the R33 are firstly the way Flight Lieutenant Booth aged thirty, rose to the occasion in handling the crippled airship for twenty-nine hours in exceptional storm, ten hours o which even keeping the nose to the wind was a terrific task secondly, the marvellous demonstration of the value of wireless. in connection with which the Irish boy operator Keeley aged twenty, was working the whole, trip, keeping in touch with the land officials who were directing the airship's movements.

"SPLENDID EFFORTS." Flight Lieutenant Booth was a sub-licutenant in the Navy in 1914. Later he was engaged in "spotting" submarines, for which he was awarded the Air Force

The progress of the R33 was necessarily slow. All five engines were not used simultaneously with a view to saving petrol.

Thousands of people gathered at Lowestoft and cheered the airship as she slowly passed over at one o'clock in the afternoon. She was sighted at Pulham at two and it was seen that her nose was badly damaged. . .

There crowds and many volunfeers had congregated by every means of locomotion. Flight Lieutcentant Booth's wife had been at Pulham all night.

The housing of the airship occupied ninety minutes. Air Vice-Marshal Salmond telegraphed Flight Lieutenant Booth! "Your efforts were splendid and redound to the credit of all."

ESCAPE FROM DISASTER.

LONDON, April 17. Delighted relatives affectionately greeted the weary crew disembarking from the R33. The crew were taken to huts and given refreshments before retiring for a much-needed sleep. It is disclosed that the prompt action of Flight Lieutenant Booth saved the airship which would otherwise have been wrecked in the first few hours. Booth after the breakaway thoroughly examined the nese. He ound the No. 1 gas bag punctured and laced it to the No. 2 frame. Thus when deflated formed a new bulkhead and prevented the damage spreading. The crew felt the severe cold of the night but were very cheerful. EARLIER CABLES. LONDON, April 17.

The boy was madly infatuated with her, but his father refused to consider the match. It was the old story of love's young dream and stern purental opposition, and it worked out in the usual way. Mr. Custis carried his opposition so far as to threaten to disinherit his son; but the boy, determined to have the girl he wanted, was covally obstinate, and finally the father yielded, even going so

She was in the fullest bloom of youthful womanhood, pretty rather than beautiful, somewhät below midd height, with a lovely figure, dark hair and hazel eyes, a winning smile, and frank and engaging manners. At that time she had never seen her destined second husband, and their first meeting was the result of purest accident. On a pleasant day early in e May, 1758, Colonel George Washington was on his way from Fort Duquesne to Williamsburg, for the purpose of laying certain military matters before the Governor and Council of Virginia. was in uniform, and accompanied only by a negro orderly. While crossing the ferry over the Pamunkey River he was accosted by an elderly gentleman named a while at his house in the neighbour-Washington at first-declined, pleading urgent business, but finally consented to stop for dinner. On reaching the house, he was introduced to a charming young widow, Mrs. Custis, who was staying there as a guest. While dinner was in progress his orderly held the horses at the horseblock outside, ready for immediate departure. But the orderly waited and waited, and his master did not reappear. The sun sank in the west, and still Washington lingered. He was so fascinated by Mrs. Custis that he could not tear himself away. The upshot of the matter was that he allowed himself to be persuaded to stay over night; and, going on to Williamsburg the next morning, he returned as quickly as possible, remain-in a coach and six. The Custis mansion in Williamsburg was commonly called the White House, or sometimes the Six-Chimney House. This is a rather odd fact, inasmuch as Martha was the only President's wife who was destined never to occupy the White House at Washington. Of course, the latter was not a white house until it was painted white after its partial destruction by the British in 1814. But it is not true that she was never in the White House at Washington, for she and her husband went through it-when it was nearing completion, on a tour of inspection. Washington and his bride lived in the Custis mansion until the close of the session of the Virginia House of Burgesses, to which he was a delegate. Dinner was at 3 p.m., and after the custom of that period, everything, including the dessert, was put on the table at once. Usually Martha would carve the principal roust herself. It is painful to be obliged to state that the best people in those days ate with their knives. Mrs. Washington had a set of forks with three times (then deemed very luxurious table furniture), but they did not serve well for eating such things as peas. The mistress of Mount Vernon had ut her disposal a chariot drawn by four horses, in which, going to and from Alexandria, or visiting neighbouring estates, she must have made an impressive appearance, with coachman and footman and a postilion riding aheadall three of them negro slaves dressed in the Washington livery of scarlet. white and gold. 🐣 🦠

Martha Starts For New York. Mrs. Washington was not able to attend her husband's innuguration in Now York, March 4, 1789. She was busy at Mount Vernon through April and the first half of May, putting the On the seventeenth day of May she started for New York in a coach and four, under escort of a troop of horse,

Three weeks after her arrival in New York, her husband was taken very ill with a carbuncle on his thigh. He thought he was going to die; his sufferings were intense, and he was obliged to undergo a painful surgical operation. For several weeks the sidewalk in front of I the house was suread with straw, and a chain was stretched across Cherry Street.

A Move To The Quaker City. Congress having decided to remove the capital to Philadelphia for a period of ten years, while the city of Washington was being prepared as a permanent seat of the government, the President and his wife transferred their residence to the Quaker City, where they occupied a house on the south side of Market Street, near Sixth, which had been tenanted a few years earlier by Benedict Arnold. It was a large double house of red brick, with a wall enclosing a garden shaded by lofty

People of all shades of religious opinion will be interested in the rumour that, as the result of a possible concordat between the Italian Government and the Holy See, the Pope may make a tour of the world before long, comments the "Daily News."

Informal relations, it is true, have improved to a remarkable extent since the time when Pius IX. became a voluntary prisoner the Vatican. The present Pontiff gave evidence of the spirit that would animate his reign when he gave his first blessing to the people assembled in the square of St. Peter's. ******

Seldom has it been our pleasure to see such a masterful drama of modern life so deftly written and so beautifully produced as "The Rejected Woman," which will be shown at the World Theatre, tomorrow, with Alma Rubens and Conrad Nagel starring together for the first time.

Here is a superb romance starting in a small Canadian village, achieving its climax amid the gaieties of New York and unfolding its happy ending in the small town home of the heroine. With underlying seriousness of motive, with many truly emotional scenes, John Lynch, the author, and Albert Parker the director, have nevertheless managed to invest this production with all of the gayety and beauty of modern life."
"The Rejected Woman" is the latest feature of the Distinctive Pictures Corporation.

Alma Rubens takes the part of beautiful, imaginative girl, Diane DuPrez, Nagel takes the rôle of John Leslie, one of those wayward sons of fabulously rich fathers. Meeting John in romantic circumstances in her northern village, Diane follows him to New York, anticipating that there their romance will be renewed. But she discovers that John has almost forgotten her and has plunged once more into the brilliant restaurant and night club life to which he is accustomed. There he plays with gorgeously gowned society women and dancing girls, and Diane realizes, after one crushing humiliation in Sherry's restaurant, that she too must have finery and culture if she is to have the love which is essential to her very being. She gets this finery and this culture and she wins and marries John-but at what a price. We must not reveal here the pitfall into which the girl steps or of how the author works out her salvation, but suffice it to say that in this picture we have a
